A few minutes later, the Queen came to the kitchen window. "Baking pies, dearie!" she asked. "It's apple pies the men love. Here, taste one of these." She held the poisoned apple out to Snow White.

Snow White remembered the Dwarfs' warning. "But what harm can a poor old woman do!" she thought. "And that apple does look delicious."

She bit the poisoned apple. Then, with a sigh, she fell to the floor.

Next morning, before they left for the mine, the Dwarfs warned Snow White to be on her guard.

"Beware of strangers," said Doc.

"Right," said Grumpy. "Don't let nobody or nothin' in the house."

"Oh, Grumpy," said Snow White, "you do care! I'll be careful, I promise." She kissed him and the others good-bye, and the Dwarfs went cheerfully off to work.
