(2.5)

A fox was boasting to a cat about its clever plans for escaping its enemies. "I have a whole bag of tricks", he said, "which has a hundred ways of escaping my enemies". "I have only one", said the cat, "but I can manage with that".

Just then they heard the cry of a pack of dogs coming towards them. The cat immediately climbed up a tree and hid herself in the branches. "This was my plan", said the cat. "What about yours?"

The fox thought first of one plan and then of another. But he could not decide what to do. While he was thinking, the dogs came nearer and nearer. They caught the fox.

The cat said, "It's better to have one sure plan than to have a hundred unsure ones".
