SET A	Qn .No	VALUE POINTS	Marks
		SECTION A – READING (14 marks)
	1.	(i) Auroras are referred to as ‘nature's theatre’. (ii) During the medieval times, people thought of auroral displays as harbingers of war or famine. (iii) While the Menominee Indians of North America believed the light indicated the location of giants who were spirits of hunters. Alaskan people believed that they indicated spirits of hunted animals. (iv) Auroras are actually collisions between electrically charged particles from the sun that enter the earth’s atmosphere. (v) The auroras in the North Pole are called ‘aurora borealis’ and the auroras in the South Pole are called ‘aurora australis’. (vi) They can be seen over the southern tip of Greenland and Iceland, the northern coast of Norway and over the coastal waters north of Siberia. (vii) Auroral displays occur in shades of red, yellow, green, blue, violet and pink. (viii) The variations in colour are due to the type of gas particles in the Earth’s atmosphere that is colliding with charged particles released from the sun’s atmosphere. (ix) Aurora’s are classified on the basis of their appearance as diffuse or discrete. While diffuse aurora is a featureless glow in the sky, a discrete aurora has very sharply defined features.	1x8=8
	2.	(i) The first most important step to cope with headaches is to identify the type of headache one is suffering from. (ii) Common reasons or sources of a headache can range from prolonged stretches of driving, sitting, typing or working on computer screens, etc. (iii) Migraine headaches affect one side of the head whereas a normal headache affects the whole area of the head OR In a headache, pain originates from the brain but in a migraine the pain originates from the irritated nerves of muscles, blood vessel and bones (iv) Migraines are triggered by chocolates, caffeine, smoking, or even by certain food items OR A shift in the level of body hormones, chemicals, certain foods and drinks and environmental stress can trigger migraine. .	1x6=6

	(v) A “headache diary” will provide the statistics of how often and what the headaches are about. It is a record of the headache and how often it emerges, and help the doctor in determining the best solution for it. (vi) The term “sensation overload” is used to refer to the ‘extreme’ or excessive sensation that results in a headache. (vii) Migraine symptoms may include nausea, vomiting, irritation, excruciating pain, and bright spots or flashes of light.

5.	(i) Human beings love life in spite of all the troubles and sufferings they face because of all the things of beauty which surround them. These things remove our despondent state and allow us to enjoy the beauty of nature. (ii) Roger Skunk’s mother disliked the new smell because that was not the natural smell of Skunk and thus would not serve its purpose. This tells us that mothers in general want to impose their opinion on their children and expect them to be obedient. (iii) It is true that Mr. Lamb and Derry were both suffering from similar problems. They both	2x5=10

	were physically impaired by the virtue of which they both were alienated from the society. However, they both react differently to their conditions. While Mr. Lamb accepts it, Derry becomes a pessimist. (iv) Yes, we sympathize with Aunt Jennifer. She represents those women who are victimized by the male dominated society. She feels oppressed and the rules of society do not allow her to express herself freely. The poet herself is very critical of the treatment given to Aunt Jennifer. So she wants women to fight for their rights, rather than being silent victims of oppression. (v) The part of the story, which Jack himself enjoyed the most was where Roger goes to the wizard's house. Jack imitated the wizard's voice. He felt being an old man suited him. He mixed his own childhood humiliations and experiences with the narration of the story. Jack enjoyed doing so because he liked seeing his daughter holding on to his words, liked seeing her apprehensive and expecting something unexpected. Jack enjoyed the fact that Jo loved the stories narrated by him. (vi) When the peddler took bath and changed into fresh clothes, the ironmaster realized that he was not his friend from his old regiment. Edla also told him that she did not find anything in the guest which could assure that he was an educated man
6.	(i) Value Points: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• All of us live in a patriarchal society, a male is considered as superior to female.</li> <li>• women have always been considered as subservient to men.</li> <li>• women have had to suppress their desires and emotions.</li> <li>• 'Aunt Jennifer's Tigers' is the presentation of such females.</li> <li>• the poet expresses the inner feelings of Aunt Jennifer.</li> <li>• embroidering a motif comprising of energetic, fearless tigers</li> <li>• moving freely around the bright greenery, her life is the exact opposite of the tigers.</li> <li>• living a life of submissiveness to her husband's command.</li> <li>• Her acts are dominated by him, fears him constantly.</li> <li>• The wedding ring - a constant reminder that she belongs to her husband.</li> <li>• torments her and it will not end until her death,</li> <li>• Even after her death, the ring will remain, and she will never be free.</li> <li>• Feminism then emerged as a collection of movements</li> <li>• and ideologies that advocate women's rights.</li> <li>• Seeks to establish equal opportunities for women in all spheres of life.</li> <li>• Through this poem, Adrienne Rich is expressing her solidarity with the movement</li> <li>• presenting the pitiable conditions of women all over the world.</li> </ul> (ii) Value Points: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• drastic precautions,</li> <li>• Evans fools the Governor and the prison authority</li> <li>• Stephens notices that Evans is wearing a hat</li> <li>• does not ask him to remove it.</li> <li>• hat concealed Evans' cropped hair.</li> <li>• the prison staff do not check Mc Leery's identity</li> </ul>	4x2=8

		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• not verified the phone call</li> <li>• not recognised Evans impersonating Mc Leery.</li> <li>• this helps him to escape prison easily.</li> <li>• Later Governor is able to catch him red-handed, at the capital,</li> <li>• Evans escapes once again in the prison van.</li> <li>• proves that it is sheer negligence on the part of the prison staff that helps Evans to escape.</li> </ul> (iii) Value Points: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Mr Lamb is quite gentle, accommodating and protective.</li> <li>• asks Derry to mind the apples as he might trip.</li> <li>• Instead of feeling angry over the way of his entry, he points out that the gate is always open</li> <li>• he is welcome. His cordial manner and conciliatory tone touch the inner most chords</li> <li>• a defiant boy like Derry changes for good. On learning about his burnt face, he does not react.</li> <li>• Instead of exhibiting fear and revulsion, he shows understanding and affection.</li> <li>• admits that he is the same as the boy. If the boy has a burnt face, he has got a tin leg.</li> <li>• he tries to win over the confidence of Derry, reminding him of Beauty and the Beast.</li> <li>• tells him the story of a man who feared everything and shut himself in a room.</li> <li>• positive attitude towards life inspires the boy to talk to him like a friend.</li> </ul>
