7	Any three developments / points with brief explanations which led to the launching of the Non-Cooperation Movement in 1921: (3 Marks) 1. Rowlatt Act: In 1919 Gandhiji organized a nationwide satyagraha against the Rowlatt Act (1919) which was hurriedly passed by the Imperial Legislative Council despite the united opposition of the Indian members. It gave the government enormous powers to repress political activities, and allowed detention of political prisoners without trial for two years. So, Mahatma Gandhi planned a non-violent civil disobedience against such unjust laws, which would start with a hartal on 6 April, 1919. 2. Jallianwalla Bagh incident: On 13 April, 1919 the infamous Jallianwalla Bagh incident took place. On that day a large crowd gathered in the enclosed ground of Jallianwalla Bagh. Some came to protest against the government's new repressive measures. Others had come to attend the annual Baisakhi fair. Dyer entered the area, blocked the exit points, and opened fire on the crowd, killing hundreds. His object, as he declared later, was to 'produce a moral effect', to create in the minds of satyagrahis a feeling of terror and awe. 3. Impact of the I World War: A harsh peace treaty was going to be imposed on the Ottoman emperor – the spiritual head of the Islamic world (the Khalifa). To defend the Khalifa's temporal powers, a Khilafat Committee was formed in Bombay in March 1919. A young generation of Muslim leaders like the brothers Muhammad Ali and Shaukat Ali, began discussing with Mahatma Gandhi about the possibility of a united mass action on the issue. At the Calcutta session of the Congress in September 1920, he convinced other leaders of the need to start a non-cooperation movement in support of Khilafat as well as for swaraj. 4. For the attainment of Swaraj: Gandhiji in his famous book Hind Swaraj (1909) Mahatma Gandhi declared that British rule was established in India with the cooperation of Indians, and had survived only because of this cooperation. If Indians refused to cooperate, British rule in India would collapse within a year, and swaraj would come. (Any other relevant points)	3
8	Suggest any three reforms to strengthen political parties so that they can perform their functions well. 1. A law should be made to regulate the internal affairs of political parties. It should be made compulsory for political parties to maintain a register of its members, to follow its own constitution, to have an independent authority, to act as a judge in case of party disputes, to hold open elections to the highest posts. 2. It should be made mandatory for political parties to give a minimum number of tickets, about one-third, to women candidates. Similarly, there should be a quota for women in the decision making bodies of the party. 3. There should be state funding of elections. The government should give parties money to support their election expenses. This support could be given in kind: petrol, paper, telephone etc. Or it could be given in cash on the basis of the votes secured by	3

	the party in the last election. (Any other relevant points/ suggestions)
9	“Democracy leads to a peaceful and harmonious life among citizens”. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. It will be a fair expectation that democracy should produce a harmonious social life. Democracies usually develop a procedure to conduct their competition. This reduces the possibility of these tensions becoming explosive or violent. 2. No society can fully and permanently resolve conflicts among different groups. But we can certainly learn to respect these differences and we can also evolve mechanisms to negotiate the differences. Democracy is best suited to produce this outcome. 3. Non-democratic regimes often turn a blind eye to or suppress internal social differences. Ability to handle social differences, divisions and conflicts is thus a definite plus point of democratic regimes. 4. It is necessary to understand that democracy is not simply rule by majority opinion. The majority always needs to work with the minority so that governments function to represent the general view. 5. It is also necessary that rule by majority does not become rule by majority community in terms of religion or race or linguistic group, etc. Rule by majority means that in case of every decision or in case of every election, different persons and groups may and can form a majority. Democracy remains democracy only as long as every citizen has a chance of being in majority at some point of time. (Answer has to be assessed as a whole) OR “Democracy is more effective than its alternatives” Democracy is better because it: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Promotes equality among citizens; 2. Enhances the dignity of the individual; 3. Improves the quality of decision-making; 4. Provides a method to resolve conflicts; and 5. Allows room to correct mistakes. (Any 5 merits/points to be explained briefly)	5

Explain. 2 The British government had exploited the Indian masses by denying them the right to freedom or liberty. They had exploited their economy for their own benefit and left them poor. They had tried to impose their own culture on them through their customs, religion, and language. Politically they had turned them into slaves ruled by a foreign country. In short, they had taken away all their rights, deprived them of freedom and exploited them in every way—economically, politically, culturally and spiritually.	4
