1.1	<ul> <li>i. convenient.</li> <li>ii. many species of sea mammals are dying.</li> <li>iii. Send them off to the landfill.</li> <li>iv. cloth bags.</li> <li>v. Reuse</li> <li>vi. Trees are cut to make them.</li> <li>vii. Most of the people oppose the banning of plastic mainly due to its convenience and durability.</li> <li>viii. Burning plastic emits toxic gases that harm the atmosphere and increase the level of VOCs in the air while landfills hold them indefinitely.</li> <li>ix. Mammals mistake the size, shape and texture of the plastic bag for a meal and find its airway cut off. These plastic bags enter the mouths, stomachs and intestinal tracts of sea mammals.</li> <li>x. Most municipalities either burn the plastics or send them off to the landfill after sorting. This is because it can be expensive to recycle this type of plastic. It doesn't melt down easily and is often not fit to be reused in its original form.</li> <li>xi. Paper bags are a possible option, but they also take their toll on the environment as trees are cut. Reusable bags are stronger and more durable. Another option is the reusable cloth bag.</li> <li>xii. suffocation</li> </ul>

8.	e. The Poet/ James Kirkup i. What did Margie write in her diary?	4x3=12
0.	On 17 May 2157, Margie wrote that that day Tommy had found a real book in the attic	TAS=12 of his house. It was an old book with yellow, crinkly pages.
	ii. Why does the intruder intend to kill Gerrard?
	The intruder is a criminal who is being chased by the police for having murdered a cop.
	As per his plan, the intruder intends to kill Gerrard in order to take on his identity and avoid being caught by the police. In this way, he can lead a peaceful life without being haunted by the fear of arrest and punishment.
	iii. Who were Abdul Kalam's school friends? What did they later become?
	Abdul Kalam had few friends. Ramanadha Sastry, Aravindan, and Shivaprakasan were his close friends. Ramanadha became a priest, Aravindan became a transport businessman and Shivprakasan had a catering contract with Southern railways.
	iv. How does the wind make fun of the weaklings?
	The strong wind uses his destructive power to harm weak persons and delicate things.
	Without showing any mercy or sympathy, he crushes weak houses, crumbling doors, and even human lives and hearts. By moving violently and destroying the weak, he seems to make fun of their helplessness.
	v) What did Saint Peter ask the old lady for? What was the lady's reaction?
	Saint Peter asked the old lady for one of her baked cakes to satisfy his hunger. The lady tried to bake a small cake for the saint (any relevant points).
9	i) How did the mother distract the child's mind from the toy seller?	2x3=6
	The child's mother drew his attention to the flowering mustard field to distract his mind from the toy seller. Here he saw colourful dragon-flies with gaudy purple wings, black bee and butterflies. He gazed at them as they flew in the air.
	ii) How, according to the king, had justice come full circle?
	Justice had come full circle, according to the king, as the blame of the crime had come back to the rich merchant after being passed on to the bricklayer, the dancing girl, the jeweller, and his own father.

iii) Describe the physical appearance of Lushkoff when Sergei observes him in his yard. Sergei observed Lushkoff closely when the latter came to his yard asking for alms. At that time, Lushkoff had a ragged appearance. He had worn a fawn-coloured overcoat and his eyes were dull and drunken. There was a red spot on either cheek. He looked every bit a disgusting beggar.

i) How does the poem justify that people in all countries of the world are essentially the same?

1x6=6

The poet justifies the statement that people living in different countries are essentially the same by asserting that 'no men are strange'. Every single body breathes and functions in the same way as ours. Each one of us equally needs the sun, air and water. Human hands too are used for the similar purpose of toiling for livelihood. Eyes too perform the similar function of sleeping and waking up. Love wins us all and we all recognize its power. In peace times, we all flourish and wars starve us. Hatred leads us astray and when we take up arms against each other, the entire earth is defiled and destroyed. Therefore, we all like peace which showers abundance and prosperity on us. Therefore, essentially we all are the same. (any relevant points)

ii) Give an account of the awards, accolades and recognition that Bismillah Khan earned as a talented musician.

Film director Vijay Bhatt was so impressed after after hearing Bismillah play at a festival that he named a film after the instrument called 'Gunj Uthi Shehnai'. The film was a hit, and one of Bismillah's compositions turned out to be a nationwide chartbuster. He also became the first Indian to be invited to perform at the prestigious Lincoln Centre Hall in the U.S.A. He took part in the World Exposition in Montreal, in the Cannes Art Festival and in the Osaka Trade Fair. So well known did he become internationally that an auditorium in Teheran was named after him Tahar Mosque Ustaad Bismillah Khan. National awards like the Padmashri, the Padma Bhushan and the Padma Vibhushan were conferred on him. In 2001, he was awarded India's highest civilian award, the Bharat Ratna.

i) 'Iswaran is a fascinating storyteller'. Discuss.

Iswaran is a fascinating storyteller who could weave out endless stories and anecdotes. He acquired this talent by reading Tamil thrillers. He would read these novels every day after lunch and relate them to his master in his leisure time. He always added suspense and surprise even to the smallest incident and could make up innumerable stories on different subjects. He would use facial and body expressions to add interest to the story. He would raise his eyebrows, wave his hands, and jump about imitating the characters in his stories. He would narrate a story in instalments and purposely leave it unfinished midway. On returning, he would not pick it up right away till reminded by his listener. He would narrate a new story every day and fill it with adventure, horror and suspense, thus entertaining Mahendra as television does.

	i) Why is the poet deeply attached with the Lake Isle of Innisfree? Explain.
	Innisfree is a simple island in the lake where the poet has spent his childhood days. The poet is in search of peace and calmness which the Lake Isle of Innisfree can provide him.
	The environment is natural and peaceful and the poet desires to visit this island.
	According to the poet, on this island, peace comes down slowly in the small drops.
	Moreover, he is very much attracted by the melodious sounds made by cricket. In fact, that sound has a deep impact on the poet. The poet believes the lake's waves hit the shore and crease at the low sound which gives aesthetic pleasure. Really, he wants to live on

	ii) Write a brief character sketch of Santosh Yadav.  Santosh Yadav was born in a traditional family. She was born in the small village of Joniyawas in Haryana. The girl was given the name Santosh, which means 'contentment.' But Santos was not always content with her place in a traditional way of life. She began living life on her own terms from the start. Where ever other girls wore traditional Indian dresses. Santosh preferred short. Santosh did not yield to the traditions. In opposition to her family, she enrolled herself in a school in Delhi. When her parents refused to pay for her education, she politely informed them of her plans to earn money by working part-time to pay her school fees. This shows that she was a determined child. She developed a love for mountaineering. She saved money and enrolled herself in a course of mountaineering. She scaled Mt. Everest twice. This is the achievement of her heroic character.
11	i) How did the swallow exhibit the values of unconditional love and devotion?	1x6=6
	The swallow happened to stop by at the city where the statue of the Happy Prince was placed. It was the sheer chance that he took shelter between the feet of the statue for just one night on way to Egypt, but stayed back till his last breath because he was moved by the Prince's selfless love, kindness and spirit of self-sacrifice. This act of the swallow shows the qualities of compassion, understanding and helpfulness in his character. He helped the Prince by becoming his messenger and carrying the jewels from the statue to the seamstress, the playwright and the match girl. He became a constant companion to the Prince after both the sapphires had been plucked out from his eye sockets. The swallow loved the Prince unconditionally and became his eyes by flying over the city and reporting the hardships and miseries of the people. He would faithfully follow all the orders of the Prince and carry the gold leaves from the statue and give them to the needy. Thus, the good values of the swallow helped him to remain a loving companion to the Prince till cold and hunger snatched away his life.

ii) Describe the first meeting between Sergei and Lushkoff. How did Sergei take pity on Lushkofl?

One day advocate Sergei came across a beggar. He was dressed in very poor clothes. He was crying and requested Sergei to have pity on him. He told Sergei that he had the offer of a position in Katuga, but he did not have money to get there. So he wanted some money to pay for the fare. Sergei looked at the beggar closely. Suddenly he remembered that he had seen him the previous day in Sadovya Street. Then he had told him that he was a student and had been expelled for not paying his fees. At first, the beggar denied the charge But when Sergei rebuked him, he admitted that he earned his living by lying. He told Sergei that his name was Lushkoff and that he was out of work. Sergei refused to give him alms. But he said that he would give him work of chopping wood. He brought Lushkoff home. lie called his maidservant Olga and told her to take him into the woodshed and get some wood chopped. Sergei could see from a room that Lushkoff was weak as well as unwilling to do the chopping work. However, after one hour, Olga came and told Sergei that the wood had been chopped. Sergei gave Lushkoff half a rouble.

8.	e. The Poet/ James Kirkup i. Why does the intruder intend to kill Gerrard?	4x3=12
.	The intruder is a criminal who is being chased by the police for having murdered a cop.	1113 12
	As per his plan, the intruder intends to kill Gerrard in order to take on his identity and avoid being caught by the police. In this way, he can lead a peaceful life without being haunted by the fear of arrest and punishment.
	ii. What did Margie write in her diary?
	On 17 May 2157, Margie wrote that that day Tommy had found a real book in the attic of his house. It was an old book with yellow, crinkly pages.
	iii. Who were Abdul Kalam's school friends? What did they later become?
	Abdul Kalam had few friends. Ramanadha Sastry, Aravindan, and Shivaprakasan were his close friends. Ramanadha became a priest, Aravindan became a transport businessman and Shivprakasan had a catering contract with Southern railways.
	iv. How does the wind make fun of the weaklings?
	The strong wind uses his destructive power to harm weak persons and delicate things.
	Without showing any mercy or sympathy, he crushes weak houses, crumbling doors, and even human lives and hearts. By moving violently and destroying the weak, he seems to make fun of their helplessness.
	v) What did Saint Peter ask the old lady for? What was the lady's reaction?
	Saint Peter asked the old lady for one of her baked cakes to satisfy his hunger. The lady tried to bake a small cake for the saint (any relevant points).
9	i) How, according to the king, had justice come full circle?	2x3=6
	Justice had come full circle, according to the king, as the blame of the crime had come back to the rich merchant after being passed on to the bricklayer, the dancing girl, the jeweller, and his own father.
	ii) How did the mother distract the child's mind from the toy seller?
	The child's mother drew his attention to the flowering mustard field to distract his mind from the toy seller. Here he saw colourful dragon-flies with gaudy purple wings, black bee and butterflies. He gazed at them as they flew in the air.

	in) Describe the physical appearance of Lushkoff when serger observes inth in his vard.
	Sergei observed Lushkoff closely when the latter came to his yard asking for alms. At that time, Lushkoff had a ragged appearance. He had worn a fawn-coloured overcoat and bit a disgusting beggar.

10.	i) How does the poem justify that people in all countries of the world are essentially the same?	1x6=6
	The poet justifies the statement that people living in different countries are essentially the same by asserting that 'no men are strange'. Every single body breathes and functions in the same way as ours. Each one of us equally needs the sun, air and water. Human hands too are used for the similar purpose of toiling for livelihood. Eyes too perform the similar function of sleeping and waking up. Love wins us all and we all recognize its power. In peace times, we all flourish and wars starve us. Hatred leads us astray and when we take up arms against each other, the entire earth is defiled and destroyed. Therefore, we all like peace which showers abundance and prosperity on us. Therefore, essentially we all are the same. (any relevant points) civilian award, the Bharat Ratna.

11	i) When does the child realize that he has lost his way? How have his anxiety and insecurity been described?	1x6=6
	The child was attracted by many things on his way to the fair. Being drawn towards them, he often lagged behind but he would try to catch up with his parents whenever they would call out to him. However, things took a sad turn when he got so engrossed by the sweetmeat-seller, balloon-seller, garlands, and the snake charmer's flute that he kept moving without waiting for his parent's reply. Finally, he could not resist the roundabout and turned back for his parents' response to his plea for a ride. At this point, he realised that he had lost his way since his parents were nowhere to be found. A deep cry of anxiety and insecurity choked his throat. Tears rolled down from his eyes. His flushed face convulsed with fear. Panic-stricken, he ran in all directions. Not knowing where to go and what to do, he cried for his mother and father.

ii) Sue is a true and faithful friend. Comment.

Sue displays the virtues of a true and faithful friend. She and Johnsy were young artist friends who shared a small flat. When Johnsy fell ill, Sue did not spare any effort to nurse her back to health. She exhibited the values of sincerity and commitment to her friend by calling the doctor who would visit them daily to review Johnsy's condition. She tried to lift Johnsy's spirits by talking cheerfully to her and thus exemplifying the value of unwavering support depressed friend. She would sit beside Johnsy's bed and paint so that she could earn for herself and Johnsy. She comforted Johnsy and dealt with her cranky behaviour very patiently. With her cheerful disposition and her optimism, she tried her best to reassure Johnsy that the old ivy leaves had nothing to do with her illness. Sensing the seriousness of Johnsy's health and her state of mind, she at once sought Behrman's help. Thus, Sue proves to be a compassionate human being and a true friend.
