Section - B

21 Home Science was not intended to be a subject only about the 'home', but to be an interdisciplinary field that would empower its students to enhance their own quality of life and that of other individuals and families. However, over time, the label Home Science became associated primarily with learning culinary skills, laundry and child-care. While at the higher education level an upgrading of the curriculum as well as resetting of the professional standards took place several years ago, at the high school level.

- i) Home Science education enables a person to work as -----in schools and colleges. 1
- ii) ----- education raises the living standard of the family. 1
- iii) Mention any one field of Home Science. 1
- iv) ----- is a place where all members of a family live together. 1
- v) 'There is no research for Home Science related fields'. State whether the given statement is true or false. 1

22 Families are basic units of society. Families are needed to meet the needs of individuals, both children and adults. The family also helps to continue the culture of any society. It provides care and nurturance to all the children, thus contributing to their wholesome development. Patrilocal and matrilocal residence refers to the living arrangement where patrilocal families are those that reside in the father's native home and matrilocal ones are those where the residence is in the mother's native home. A grandmother eagerly awaits the arrival of her grandchildren to share her time and do things with them. Thus the family attempts to provide love, care and support to its members at all ages and through various experiences and situations.

- i) Mention the two types of families 1
- ii) -----family is an example for patrilocal family system 1
- iii) -----means brothers and sisters 1
- iv) 'If a child receives adequate love from her parents, he develops into an emotionally stable person'. State whether the given statement is true or false. 1
- v) -----enjoy participating in their grandchildren's upbringing, as they have more time than the child's parents. 1
