		i) The poem, 'Snake' reminds us of the fact that animals too have a right to life which we have no right to deny them. Describe how man should co-exist with nature and its creatures for ecological balance. Content - 4, Organisation -3 & Accuracy - 1 The poem 'Snake' reminds us of the fact that animals too have a right to life which we have no right to deny them. One should always listen to the voice of conscience that does not allow us to play with these brainless and innocent creatures. Man cannot afford to tamper with ecology as it has been carefully planned and laid out by nature and it may result in the extinction of wild animals and in the depletion of forests and their wealth. Further man will have to face dire consequences like landslides floods droughts and famines if he harms the ecological balance. Nature has supplied the living creatures with abundant resources and man in particular has been able to co-exist with the least discomfort. So it is our moral duty to have mutual respect for these creatures and believe in the principle of Peaceful Co-existence.
		ii) As an artist, one's endeavour should be to make the 'most of one's opportunity, and squeeze the last drop of meaning out of one's lines. A play is the combined effort of many that makes it successful. Keeping in mind the advice given to Patol Babu by his mentor, Gogan Prakash, express your views on the 'Significance of Labour' in about 120-150 words. Content - 4, Organisation -3 & Accuracy - 1 The significance of labor in acquiring success and squeezing the best out of every moment is very crucial. Satyajit Ray has beautifully described it through the character of Patol Babu. Patol Babu was not only extremely hardworking but also knew how to extract the best out of the given opportunity. He had learned these secrets to success from his mentor Gogan Prakash. In spite of getting such an insignificant role, Patol Babu decided to do the role. He practiced very hard on his one-word dialogue. He went to a secluded corner and started enunciating the syllable in various ways. And when the scene was shot, he gave a flawless performance. All the crew praised him. He himself felt pure satisfaction. This was an invaluable reward for him.
